Home Sharing: Tell us about Your Experience

As part of the Home Share Working Group's three -year work plan, Community Living BC (CLBC) is gathering feedback through a short survey, to support our work in the referral process and crisis response in home sharing.

As a home sharing provider, you have lived experience and can make an important and valuable contribution in helping us better understand how we can improve the matching process and how we can better prevent, avert and respond when things go wrong.

Recognizing the challenging and unique pandemic situation we are all facing, a few questions have been added to this survey to help understand how home sharing providers are doing during COVID - 19, what has been most challenging and what would help you to remain well and carry on for the remainder of the pandemic.

The Survey is open now and closes on November 29th, 2020

This is an anonymous survey and should take 20 minutes to complete. Safeguards are in place to ensure your privacy. CLBC and our partner organizations will not be looking at individual answers.

Survey results will be used alongside results from earlier consultations that took place across the province. Once all feedback has been reviewed, data and key learnings will be shared with home share working group members so we can work together to develop solutions that are based directly on your feedback.
